

Art & Science C°llide @Bungarribee
May 2017

The Concept:

C°LABS is a new home-grown outdoor arts event for Western Sydney which fuses art and science in extraordinary new ways. It will run across two weeks from 5 May 2017.

C°LABS combines the spirit of a community celebration with the aesthetic of a large scale public art event and the intellect of STEM theory to create a unique landmark event for Western Sydney. By pairing artists and creative innovators with leading practitioners in the fields of Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM), C°LABS will transform Bungarribee parklands into a hub of exploration, interactivity and creation through installations, artworks, experiments and science manifestations.

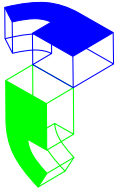

The Site

Bungarribee is located in the northern section of the Western Sydney Parklands between Eastern Road, the M7 and the Great Western Highway. Its rich history spans indigenous Australian settlement; the Rooty Hill Government Farm; a horse stud; an RAAF dispersal area during World War II; and the site of the Overseas Telecommunications Commission (OTC).

It is now an emerging hub for local recreation, with more than four kilometers of cycling and walking tracks and a dog park. It sits within the same precinct as the Eastern Creek Raceway, Blacktown Sports Centre, Wet and Wild and the new Sydney Zoo.

Participate

You can be from a STEM background or an artist, designer, creative industry practitioner, business or educational institution.

Collaborations could cover any of the following areas:

STEM

Food science

Robotics engineering

Agricultural science

Oceanography

Software development

Mathematics

Meteorology

Biology

Physics

Climate science

Chemistry

ARTS

Music

Fashion

Sculptor

Street art

Videography

Photography

Dance

Circus

Comedy

DJ

Textile design

- You can work solo or as part of a group.
- You can be an emerging artist / scientist or mid-career.
- You can be a secondary or tertiary student.
- You can be local, Australian or international.
- You can have a collaborator in mind or we can help match you with one.

Contact:

pip@colabs.org.au | www.colabs.org.au

Art Futures Ltd. is a not-for-profit enterprise.

Strategic Partner

Western Sydney Parklands

